Here is a pro tip that many experienced users swear by when working with Freightos Getting Started What You Need To Know: create a separate sheet for your reference data. This includes things like shipping carrier rates, tax brackets, platform fee structures, and common product categories. Then use VLOOKUP or INDEX-MATCH to pull this data into your main tracking sheet. This approach keeps your main sheet clean and makes it easy to update reference data without touching your core records. It also means that if fee structures change, you only need to update one cell instead of hundreds of rows. Trust us, this simple habit will save you countless hours.

For those who want to get the most out of Freightos Getting Started What You Need To Know, learning a few key formulas can make a massive difference. You do not need to be a programmer or a math genius. Start with basic formulas like SUM, AVERAGE, and COUNT. Then move on to VLOOKUP and INDEX-MATCH for cross-referencing data between sheets. Conditional formatting is another powerful feature that can automatically highlight items that need your attention, such as orders that have been pending for more than a week or items where the profit margin falls below a certain threshold. These small improvements compound over time and can significantly boost your productivity.

Understanding the fee structure is critical when using Freightos Getting Started What You Need To Know for purchasing. Every platform charges differently for shipping, handling, currency conversion, and service fees. These costs can add up quickly, especially for frequent buyers. We recommend creating a simple cost comparison sheet that factors in all these elements. Include the item price, domestic shipping within China, international shipping, platform service fee, and any applicable taxes. This gives you the true total cost and allows you to make apples-to-apples comparisons between different purchasing options.

If you want to take your Freightos Getting Started What You Need To Know workflow to the next level, consider learning basic automation. Tools like Google Apps Script, Zapier, or n8n can automate repetitive tasks like copying data between sheets, sending notifications when order statuses change, or generating summary reports at the end of each week. You do not need to be a developer to set up basic automations. Many platforms offer pre-built templates and tutorials that walk you through the process step by step. Start with one simple automation and gradually build from there as you become more comfortable.
