One of the most common mistakes people make when setting up Acbuy Conditional Formatting Spreadsheet is skipping the configuration step. It might be tempting to jump straight into adding data, but taking ten minutes to configure your columns, formulas, and formatting rules will save you hours down the road. Start by defining your column headers clearly. For example, if you are tracking orders, you will want columns for order number, date, item name, quantity, unit price, shipping cost, total cost, tracking number, and status. Use data validation to create dropdown menus for fields like status and payment method. This prevents typos and makes filtering much easier.

Shipping insurance is something that many buyers overlook when using Acbuy Conditional Formatting Spreadsheet, but it can be a worthwhile investment for higher-value orders. Most platforms offer some form of shipping protection, but the coverage details vary. Read the fine print carefully to understand what is and is not covered. In our experience, the small additional cost of insurance is worth the peace of mind, especially for orders exceeding $100. If a package gets lost or damaged, having insurance dramatically simplifies the refund process and reduces the amount of time you spend dealing with disputes.

A common pitfall that catches many Acbuy Conditional Formatting Spreadsheet users off guard is currency conversion fees. Many platforms display prices in USD or EUR but process payments in a different currency. This can result in unfavorable exchange rates and hidden fees that are not immediately visible. We recommend using a currency conversion tool or a fee-free debit card like Wise to make international payments. This gives you the real exchange rate and can save you 3-5% on each transaction compared to using a standard credit card.
